Dare to Dance

As a little girl
I watched dancers turn and leap
They seemed so magnificent
Shining from up on stage, so sure about what to do
Their movements told a story
Character that leapt straight from a page
Their expressions showed their love of dance
How it spread through them like spring fever
I dreamed of being one of those girls
Who smiled brightly from up on stage
I discovered dancing, and how it makes the world fall away
How it makes me who I want to be
No matter what anyone else says
Now I am one of the dancers on stage
Smiling at the little girls below
Knowing some day they will be where I am
Also showing how deep their love of dance goes
