Life

Before when I give flower to you
I was just a little boy
Before when you give me flower
I was just a little girl
Before when I give a ring to you
I was just a man
Before when you give me ring
I was just a lady
When we had children
We were just one couple
After when children smile to us
We could be parents.
Now, when we can smile together
We are family
Someday, when we can see another life’s smiling
We will be one called Life.
