Your Bridge

Your bridge is the best bridge.
Your bridge may be a bridge that no one else can see
Maybe that bridge is a person that you love or a person that you hate
Your bridge could be solid or it could be loosely put together
Maybe you didn’t even build your bridge
Maybe it was just there so that you could add on to it
Add on things that make it the best bridge it possibly can be
Or maybe you decide you destroy that bridge and build a new one
And maybe this one will be a magnificent bridge
One that will make you even shocked by its greatness
The idea that you could have your own bridge is an amazing thing
You can make your bridge whatever you want it to be
Whether you want it small, larger, wide, or skinny
So...what is your bridge?
